Silver Tier L&D Foundation Building Mentoring

For early-career L&D professionals looking to build a solid foundation

Ideal for early-career Learning and Development professionals, this mentoring program provides focused guidance to help you confidently navigate the L&D landscape and build a solid foundation for success.

This is perfect for:

Newer L&D professionals seeking clarity on their career path and foundational knowledge in the L&D field.

What you get:

Pre-session:

- Pre-session self-assessment or reflection on current career goals and challenges.
- Review of your professional background to personalise the session.

Mentoring session:

- Overview of foundational L&D concepts and their application in your work.
- Personalised guidance on building confidence in L&D and your career direction.
- Practical advice on navigating early-career challenges in L&D.

Post-session:

- Personalised summary of key takeaways and next steps.
- Suggested readings, tools, or learning resources for continued growth.
- Follow-up email with an option for a 15-minute check-in within one month.

Select this tier to gain career direction, build confidence, and get the foundational insights you need to succeed in your L&D journey.
